WATER COMPANY WINS; IT CAN USE POSTALS TO SCARE YOU INTO PAYING BILLS

The Post Office Department says the California Water and Telephone Company can legally use postal cards to threaten you with turning your water supply off if you don't pay your bill. This opinion was received this week by Postmaster Ernest Bixler of Carmel.

We're thinking of sending our advertising bills out on postal cards on October 1. We're thinking of printing on the bottom of them: "We've adopted a statute which says that if this bill isn't paid within 15 days we may come down to your place of business and knock your neck off." We should get that through the mails. We'd rather have our neck knocked off than have no water in the house.

WILLKIE

If the election had been held two weeks after the Republican convention it is extremely likely that he would have been elected. American hysteria would have done it. As things are going now—particularly his jaws and vocal organs—it is extremely doubtful if, on November 5, he carries Maine and Vermont, or either of them.

There is a new outdoor sport in Carmel, increasing in interest with the days. You can play it. Pick out a good (sic) black, bed-rock Republican—one of the Union League kind—and mention the speech of his Presidential candidate—say, the latest one, or any of them. You get a decided nervous reaction. The campaign button which faces you sort of fogs up. Your elephant man suddenly asks you about your health or comments on the weather. Or, if he's brighter than the average Republican, he'll retort: "Well, what can you expect from a bird who was a Democrat up until two years ago."

HOW ABOUT GETTING GOING ON THE LITTLE MATTER OF FINISHING HIGH SCHOOL?

We don't know how much money it will take to do it, but the difference between what you'd think and what it actually is, would not be material as far as taxes are concerned—the thing is, that the Carmel School District must go ahead and finish its beautiful high school plant.

And there is every indication today that a bond issue for the purpose would be successful. The situation is just what we thought it would be when THE CYMBAL recommended to the school board two years ago that it go ahead and complete what units were possible with the funds available and obtainable at the time, and then, with a material example of what it had accomplished economically to present to the taxpayers of the district, seek further help to finish the job.

The board wisely went ahead along this line and today residents of the district who have visited the completed units of the Carmel High School at the crest of the Ocean avenue hill are practically unanimous in voicing their surprise, appreciation and gratification. They see a beautiful set-up, a beautifully-designed plant and, on investigation, discover that it has been accomplished at a minimum of expense. They have a tangible exam-

No Quarter to Zoning Law Violators

Women's National Golf Championship Play Starts Monday at Pebble Beach

BETTY JAMESON and the cup she'll battle to keep. She is the U.S.G.A. Women's Champion and she does her battling on the Pebble Beach course next week.

The Monterey Peninsula will add another "first" to its long list of achievements when the U. S. G. A. Women's Amateur event gets under way Monday on Del Monte's spectacular seaside Pebble Beach course.

It will be the first time in the 45 year history of the event that the championship has been held in Northern California and indications are that it may well be the first time that California has produced a national women's champion.

For while Betty Jameson of San Antonio, the defending champion, remains the pre-tournament favorite and showed that she was in championship form when she won the recent Western Amateur in Seattle, the odds are all against her repeating this year.

Only two women have won the national championship twice in a row. They were Glenna Collett Vare and Virginia Van Wie.

With the turnament right in its own backyard, California has been able to send a large representation which includes several players capable of stepping into Miss Jameson's shoes should she falter.

One of her closest rivals will be Clara Callender, former Monterey Peninsula wonder girl golfer and Del Monte champion, who holds the Pebble Beach course record for women.

Clara now plays from Long Beach which is also the home town of Miss Elizabeth Hicks, another native daughter who is out to keep Miss Jameson's crown in California.

Local entries from this section include Mrs. Alan Pattee of Carmel Valley, Mrs. Harry Hunt and Miss Mary Morse of Pebble Beach, and Mrs. Charles Sambrailo, Mrs. James McHenry Rauers, and Mrs. Frank J. McCann of the Del Monte Golf and Country Club.

Also of special interest to the huge galleries which always follow the women's national golf championship are the entries of Ruby Keeler, Mrs. Rod La Rocque and Mrs. Bob Hope of the movie colony, Mrs. A. A. Gillespie, the former Ruth Elder, well known aviatrix, and Miss Grace Amory, of Glen Head, New York, the "glamour girl of golf."

CITY COUNCIL AND ITS ATTORNEY, FLUSHED WITH VICTORY, GOING AFTER EVERY PROPERTY OWNER WHO TRIES TO GET AWAY WITH TWO-KITCHEN PROPOSITION

Members of the Carmel city council and City Attorney William L. Hudson spent much of the time of their meeting Wednesday evening in patting themselves on the back.

"Our zoning law provision prohibiting two dwellings on one lot stands impregnable before the courts of this fair land," cried Hudson, or words to that effect, and the councilmen cheered until the old arches of Irish oak in the stately chambers of Carmel legislation resounded.

"We have dragged one culprit into the city court and he pleaded guilty," continued the city attorney through the tumult of applause. "We have hauled another into the superior court that we might brave a decision as to the validity of our statute, and there we have obtained a permanent injunction. We have gone from the lowly to the highly. Now, on the stroke of 10 o'clock some Tuesday we shall strike at the middlely."

(Editor's note—The young fellow who covers council meetings for THE CYMBAL was put on the carpet in regard to the authenticity of the above quotations. WE never heard Billy Hudson talk like that. It's far too good. Sounds like Edmund Burke or F.D.R. He explained that because of the cheering he couldn't get to just word for word and put down what he'd have said if he'd been Billy, and under the circumstances.)

O.K., to go on:

It appears that the city attorney, with the city council behind him to a man, started out some few moons

You May Inspect New High School Saturdays

The Carmel High School plant will remain open to visitors each Saturday from 10 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., and furthermore there will be someone in the office to escort people through the various rooms.

This arrangement was decided upon by O. W. Bardarson, school superintendent, early on Monday morning after watching about 10 cars drive up to the school on Sunday, their owners fruitlessly peering through glass at a school the doors of which were solidly locked against invasion. In other words, he felt so sorry for them he thought something should be done about it. It has been.

More Than $13,000 in Prizes Will Be Awarded at County Fair—Sept. 26-29

Old Mr. County Fair—all decked out in blue jeans, hickory shirt and straw hats—came down from the hills for his annual visitation to the Monterey Peninsula this week.

What he heard "way up thar" was right: there is going to be a 1940 Monterey County Fair; it opens next Thursday over the hill at the Monterey fairgrounds, chuck full with exhibits and with three days of horse racing with pari-mutuel betting and a horse show to boot.

With more than $13,000 in premiums to be awarded, each and every exhibit division will be crowded with the products of the county.

In six long barns will be the prize cattle, horses, swine, sheep and poultry that make the livestock show outstanding. In the agriculture building, the harvest wealth of the valley will be displayed by a score of farmer's organizations.

Carmel's Sunset School, along with all other public schools in the county, is participating in the education show, which will feature a series of "patriotic biographies in clay" by Merrell Gage, Los Angeles sculptor, of Washington and Lincoln. They will be presented each afternoon and evening of the first two days of the Fair.

And the artists and photographers will be at the Fair, too, according to Myron A. Oliver, fine arts director.

Besides all of this there are the Industrial Arcade, the household

Sten Englund, Ralph Linsley in Concert At Playhouse This Evening

Sten Englund, Swedish basso, with Ralph Linsley at the piano, sings tonight in the Carmel Playhouse at 8:30 o'clock, under the Denny-Watrous management. Carmel needs no introduction to these two well-loved artists of the Bach Festival, nor any description of their great artistry.

In was in 1926 that Sten Englund came to America from his native Sweden. He is an experienced opera singer, accomplished in concert and oratorio as well. Possessing great natural gifts in quality of voice, range, interpretation and power. Englund's concert programs are full of variety and interest. His program tonight devotes a con-

Business Group Opposes Liquor License

More than 75 members of the Carmel Business Association, gathered at the dinner-meeting last Tuesday night to hear Major General Joseph W. Stilwell, commanding general of Fort Ord, did one piece of business following the general's talk.

They expressed by vote their opposition to the granting of a liquor license to the proposed apartment-hotel and restaurant to be erected at Seventh and Lincoln streets. This action is in line with the organization's opposition to a liquor license application of a hotel project a year ago. The hotel, planned for Sixth and Mission and Junipero, has apparently been abandoned as a project.

The city council also opposed the hotel license and it is believed it will act likewise if the Lincoln street hotel-apartment promoters apply for a license.

ple of the efficiency of the board of school trustees and their technical advisors. They have acquired faith in the ability of the board to handle the district's affairs and the district's money.

It is time now, with this example of faithfulness before us, to entrust this board with more money to finish the job; to provide the Carmel High School students with a complete and rounded-out material setup for the five years of their junior and senior high school education.

THE CYMBAL recommends that immediate steps be taken for the presentation to the voters of a bond issue to finish the high school plant. We would like to see money voted sufficient to build a gymnasium, pool, cafeteria, music room, shop and underpass and, also, to include what is necessary to remedy the acoustical faults in Sunset Auditorium.

We see no reason for delay. Whatever may be the status of the rest of the world, Carmel is experiencing today the beginning of a prosperous period, a period that is particularly pleasing to property owners. We're in the army now, and the army is taxing our capacity and ability to take care of the housing problem of its officers. And its officers are coming here to live and bringing families that in almost every case include children of grammar and high school age.

Not merely in pride because of the beautiful units of our new high school and its magnificent site, but in justice to our children we should complete that high school plant. And we should start immediately to get the means to do it.

MOTION PICTURES WILL BE SHOWN TO SUNSET PUPILS THIS MORNING

Clarence Eckman, County visual education director, is at Sunset School this morning showing two pictures in the Auditorium to the student body. The first is "Alaska's Silver Millions," a story about the salmon industry, with Father Hubbard as narrator. The second is "The Land of the Free," a story about America and America as a democracy today.

THE FUSE BOX

WE GET IN WRONG WITH THE EFFICIENT COUNTY CLERK

Editor, The Cymbal:

Your notice setting forth the qualifications and dates for registration for the General Election, as published in your issue of September 13th, contains a misstatement with respect to the dates upon which "Shut-ins may register." You state, "Shut-ins may register by asking Registration Deputies to call at their homes. They must do this between October 16th and October 31st, inclusive."

Registration closes for everyone on September 26th. The dates, "October 16th and October 31st" apply to the time within which applications for Absent Voters' Ballots may be filed.

I would appreciate it very much if the newspapers would submit any material of this nature to me before publication as misstatements of this nature are very confusing to the electorate.

Salinas, Sept. 14 County Clerk.

Sunset School News

TY HOOK IS PRESIDENT OF SUNSET STUDENT BODY

Ty Hook was elected president of the student body at Sunset School Wednesday afternoon. Sue Dekker is vice-president, Francis Shea, secretary, and Tommy Hefling, business manager. This last was pretty close, with Martha Templeman, Roger Byers and Douglas Calley giving him real competition.

Other students nominated for this election who gave their nomination speeches Wednesday morning at an assembly of students from Grade Four through Grade Seven, were for the office of president, Martin Irwin, Edgar Hoffman and Ruth Townsend; vice-president, Barbara Timmins, Barbara Josselyn, Clayton Neill, Michael Ryan and Roderick Dewar; secretary, Louise George, Charlotte Dawson, Lois Petty, Carol Walker and Janet Strasburger.

After-school football games were started last Tuesday. They have three teams. Martin Irwin is captain of the Indians. Ty Hook is captain of the Bears, and Edgar Hoffman is captain of the Huskies. Mr. Arthur Hull and Mr. Frank Gosling are officials.

A new boy entered Sunset School last Monday. He is Lawrence Johnson and he is in Mrs. Jordan's Seventh Grade.

SHANNAH, SUSANNAH AND MICHAEL ARE NOW THREE

Shannah, Susannah and Michael were three years old this week and over at the Stanton lean-to in Pebble Beach things went rather berserk. Bob and Virginia ended the day in two complete and individual states of exhaustion. Their movie camera button-pressing fingers were bathed in oil and wrapped in cotton. This is a regular every six months' situation. They take colored movies of the children every birthday and in between on the half-birthday, if you get what we mean.

Work of re-surfacing a one-mile stretch of the Pacheco Pass road, State Route 152, three miles west of the Merced County line has been good condition the entire distance, reports the California State Automobile Association.

Just in Case . . .

YOU SHOULD WANT TO KNOW

STATISTICS ON THE TOWN

Carmel, in a pine forest (Carmel-by-the-Sea on the unashamed records, and "nestled" in a pine forest, according to realtors), on the shore of the expansive Pacific Ocean, is about 130 miles south of San Francisco by road and rail, and about 330 miles north of Los Angeles (God help us!) by the naturally beautiful but peace-devastating new coast highway.

Within our corporate borders dwell during tranquil nine months of the year about 2,800 human beings of varying degrees of personal charm and about 1297 dogs, all lovable. We cover a geographical area of 425 acres and have 1602 dwellings. We tolerate 176 separate and distinct places of business.

Directly adjacent to us, but not within our municipal city limits are residence sections known to us as Carmel Point, Carmel Woods, Pebble Beach, Hatton Fields and the Mission Tract, with an estimated aggregate population of 1000 humans. Dogs 187. Also using us for shopping purposes are Carmel Highlands, where State Senator Ed Tickle runs Highlands Inn, and the Carmel Valley. They have an estimated population of 400 humans. Dogs 88.

That gives us about 4,200 human beings and 1,572 dogs in "metropolitan" Carmel.

Gen. Stilwell Tells How Unprepared We Are

Major General Joseph W. Stilwell, commander of the new Fort Ord, said a lot of mouthfuls at the monthly dinner meeting of the Carmel Business Association at Hotel La Ribera Tuesday evening.

Perhaps the largest mouthful was that the United States now has nine army divisions, six of which are trained. In the campaign in France, Germany had 193 divisions, all trained and equipped. China, in her battle against Japan, has 207 divisions, all trained, but many unequipped.

A division, one of which General Stilwell commands at Fort Ord and Camp Clayton—the Seventh—consists of three regiments of infantry and two of artillery.

"Our failure to be prepared for military emergencies has been because we are commercially-minded nationally," he said. "But we've got to do it and do it as quickly as we can. If the present world situation doesn't spell emergency, I don't know what it does spell."

General Stilwell said that the present strength of the 7th division is 6500 men and while recruiting is behind schedule it will by the middle of November be up to the war strength of 13,500. He said we might as well make up our minds that for an indefinite period in the future there would be between 20,000 and 30,000 men stationed in our vicinity, and in training here.

He declared that all neutral observers of the present European war had agreed that the three biggest lessons to be learned from the success of the German forces were the need for good physique, ability to use weapons, and thorough knowledge of efficient tactics of small units.

In referring to the raw recruits under his training at Fort Ord he said that the men are practically all volunteers and investigation had disclosed that the great majority of them had enlisted because they considered it the right thing to do at this time.

"They come principally from the Middle West," he said, "and range in ages from 18 to 22. All know what an automobile is, but some of them don't know how to brush their teeth. All wore shoes. It is interesting to see how they blossom under training. But some of them are pretty raw. I was hailed by one of them in the camp last Saturday afternoon. 'Say, major,' he called to me, 'How's chances of riding over to Carmel with you?' I told him I was sorry, but I had to work Saturday afternoons. That's where he had it on me."

He told how difficult it was to get uniforms for the men. He said the rations come through efficiently, however, and "if the men get rations they don't much care what they wear."

Sanitary Board Members Are Re-Elected

Hugh W. Comstock, Keith Evans and Dr. J. B. McCarthy were re-elected to the Carmel Sanitary District board at the election last Monday. Bernard Rowntree, assessor, was also re-elected. The efforts of a certain group of business property owners, who opposed the assessments for payment of the extension of the sewer system and construction of the disposal plant, to put over a write-in drive were frustrated. Comstock received 126 votes, Evans, 142, and McCarthy, 123. The write-ins — Ernest Schweninger and Gordon Campbell—got 53 and 52 votes, respectively. There were 187 votes cast.

Silly votes were one for Kent Clark, one for P. A. McCreery and one for Rowntree, for members of the board, and one for Pon Chung, one for Ernest Morehouse and one for W. K. Bassett, for assessor. Bassett lost a lot of votes since the previous election.

Paul Mercurio, who spends most of his time hitting golf balls and, when he can't find anybody to play with him, does a little tonsorial work in his shop on Ocean avenue, will lead the grand march this next Wednesday evening at a ball in his honor at Santa Cruz.

For Paul is president of the California State Firemen's Association and the President's Ball will be the feature social event of the 18th annual convention of the organization which takes place in Santa Cruz September 23-26. On Paul's arm as he glides majestically down the ball room in the municipal auditorium will be Mrs. Josephine Brichetto of Santa Rosa, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the C.S.F.A., which has its 10th annual convention at the same time.

Planning to go to the convention from Carmel, besides Paul, are Bob Leidig, Cedric Rowntree and Paul Funchess, and at last night's meeting of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department two of these were to be elected official delegats.

Mrs. David Machado, state deputy for the central district of the Auxiliary, will also attend.

At last night's meeting of the department Joey Perry, William Blewett and Henry Hasty were voted in as regular members. They have been training for membership and are said to have now learned how not to try putting out fires—such as using gasoline or blowing on 'em.

Burr Busy Man in His Choral Work

The Carmel Choral Society, and the course offered by the Carmel Adult School in the technique, theory and development for elementary choral work including sight reading, are both directed by John Burr. His Choral Society group is already well established, but in order to simplify matters he has reduced its meetings to one night a week—Tuesday night—at his own studio from 7:30 o'clock until 10 o'clock.

The Chorus under the Adult School meets twice weekly in Room 11, Sunset School, on Mondays and Thursdays from 7:30 until 9:30 o'clock. Anyone is eligible to join one or both. The Carmel Choral Society, however, has dues of $1 a month to cover cost of music and to establish a social fund, and is already planning a concert. The class at Sunset School is more technical. The two should work in well together without conflicting.

Some Nursery Rimes

(Now here's an interesting thing. The following—well, we'll call 'em nursery rhymes—were sent in to us by mail of a Tuesday this week, and signed as you see it. But no one ever really had a name like that, of course. They're anonymous and, we fear, libelous. The interesting thing referred to at the outset of these italics is that Eliza, in her manuscript, consistently misspelled Willkie's name every time she typd it. "Criminally sloppy," says we.—Ed.)

SIGNS AND PORTENTS
IN THE WILLKIE WAY

There was once a proud puddler named Willkie,
Whose voice (as he said) was not silkie.
No frog could a bark-a,
"I'll save Amarrrrrhhka!"
Rougher than Wendell P. Willkie.

To Mr. Willkie, Europe's war
Is something on the side.
(World Affairs may one day take Willkie for a ride.)

Willkie says that Roosevelt
Backed the war in Europe.
(One can hardly wait to see Willkie in the stirrup.)

Willkie's secretary says
Willkie made a slip.
(Pretty early in the day
For cup to flinch from lip.)

Willkie says that Roosevelt wrought
(Dated "'32")
The depression that has caught
Poor dumb Me and You.

Mr. Willkie says we need
Business as of yore.
(With business squarely on its feet
What can We want more?)

Mr. Willkie's "History"
(Coffeyville please copy)
Seems to show that teachers are Criminally sloppy.

Wendell Willkie came to town
Riding on a see-saw,
Incandescents in his crown.

"We're Making Same Tragic Mistakes As in First World War," Carmel Citizen Tells Commonwealth Club

Addressing the members of the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco at a National Defense luncheon Wednesday, Z. L. Potter of Carmel tore into the present national administration for what he termed "tragic delays that cost thousands of lives needlessly in the first World War."

During that war Potter helped prepare a weekly confidential report for President Woodrow Wilson on the progress of all war activities and in his talk Wednesday in San Francisco he drew largely on that experience in berating the present defense production organization and policies.

The speaker's most sarcastic criticism was leveled at the policy of building new factories for the great mass of armament production, instead of making fullest possible use of existing plants. According to Potter, this is one reason that most deliveries are promised for 1941 and 1942.

"Germany cannot begin to match us, even with all of dominated Europe, in resources, in mechanical experience, in inventive genius or in productive capacity," he said. "Time is our only enemy to be feared. There is not a day to delay. The President should stop at once the foolish mistakes that have been and that are being made."

"Veritable Vortex of Social and Sports Events" Says Publicity Man About Del Monte Program for Two Weeks

Del Monte will be a veritable vortex of social and sports activities within the next two weeks, when the fashionable resort becomes the setting for three major events of the late summer season; the women's national amateur golf championships, to be played over the Pebble Beach course Sept. 23-28; the horse show and the horse races at Del Monte track, Sept. 26-29, events of the Monterey County Fair.

During the eventful period, the Monterey Peninsula will play host to a number of prominent socialites, golfers, and equestrian enthusiasts from all over the country, who will be entertained at Del Monte and in the many homes of resort colonists at Pebble Beach. House-parties are already being planned for the visitors.

The Women's Golf Association of Northern California are hostesses during the week of the tournament, and their representatives will preside at a "Get Together" tea on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 21, at Del Monte.

Henry Potter Russell, manager of the County Fair, will entertain with Mrs. Russell several house guests at his Carmel Valley ranch, including Carleton F. Burke and Miss Louise Burke of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Perkins of Santa Barbara, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Kingsley Macomber of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. John Magee will also entertain a house-party of guests at their Pebble Beach home.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Crocker will be hosts at Pebble Beach to a group including Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gray of San Mateo, Miss Marjorit Watt and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Magee of San Francisco.

Guests of Miss Geraldine Flint at Pebble Beach will be Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley Mullin, Mrs. C. H. Whitney, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Joyce, Jr., of Los Angeles.

Horse shows each evening at Del Monte track and dinner dancing in the Bali Room at Hotel Del Monte will be the center of evening entertainment, and a special Sunday matinee of the horse show will be given at Del Monte track. Each day, however, the matches of the national women's golf tournament promise to draw the largest crowd to the Pebble Beach seaside course.

Among the local residents entered in the tournament are Miss Mary Morse of Pebble Beach, Mrs. Harry Hunt of Pebble Beach, Mrs. Frank J. McCann of Del Monte, Mrs. James McH. Rauers of Del Monte, Mrs. Grant Stephenson of Pebble Beach, Mrs. Alan Pattee of Pebble Beach and Mrs. Charles Sambrailo, Del Monte.

GORDON EWIG HONORED AS ALL SAINTS' CRUCIFER

In recognition of more than three years of faithful and fine service rendered to All Saints' Church as Crucifer, the Rev. C. J. Hulsewé and the Vestry presented Gordon Ewig with a fine copy of the Book of Common Prayer and Hymnal. Mr. Hulsewé made the presentation for the group last Sunday at the 11 o'clock service and wished him well on his entering Stanford University. The Altar Guild presented Gordon with a beautifully bound copy of the Bible.

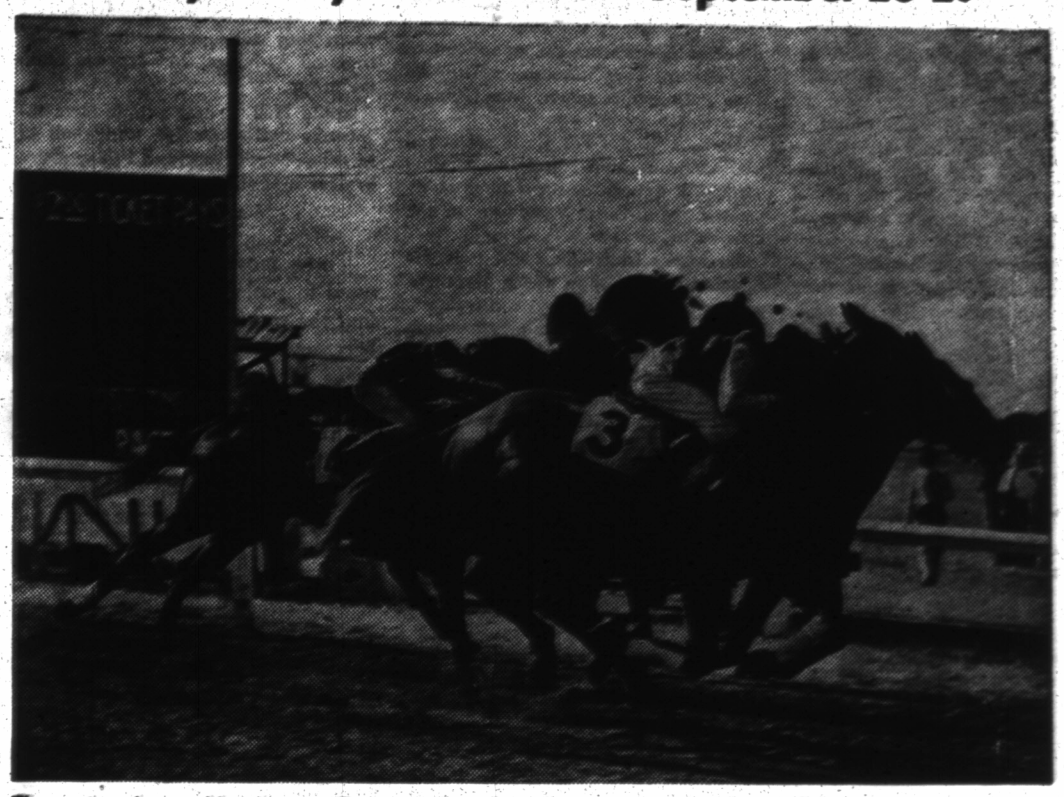
More Than $13,000 in Premiums Will Be Awarded at the Monterey County Fair This Year—September 26-29



The racing thoroughbreds are off to a neck and neck start in one handicap of the race meet with pari-mutuel betting to be held during the 1940 Monterey County Fair from September 26 through 29 at Monterey. Six races daily, two featured handicaps, and $5,400 in purses are scheduled for the meet at Del Monte track the first three days of the Fair.

arts exhibit, a floriculture and garden show, a dog show, a kiddies' free show, and a carnival.

That makes a real Fair. With it are two outstanding entertainment attractions: three days of horse racing with pari-mutuel betting, and a colorful horse show each night and the concluding afternoon.

More than 150 of the state's finest racing thoroughbreds have been entered in the race meet, with six running races and a special steeplechase event daily from next Thursday through Saturday afternoons at Del Monte track adjoining the fairgrounds.

Featured races of the meet, for which purses total $5,400, are the Del Monte Handicap, purse $400 for horses of all ages on a six furlong course next Thursday, and the Monterey County Handicap, purse $600, for three year olds and upwards on a one-mile and sixteenth course, next Saturday.

Events for hunters, jumpers, polo ponies, three- and five-gaited horses, stock horses and in dressage and equitation are listed on the horse show program, for which R. D. Collins of Pebble Beach is manager.

Participants from this side of the hill include Jack Ball, Lynn Hodges, Bettie Greene, Gerry Flint, Elizabeth, Mary and T. F. Riley, Mrs. Vanderbilt Phelps and Joe Algrava.

League of Women Opens Season Wednesday

The first general membership meeting of the Monterey County League of Women Voters will take place at 11:45 a.m. next Wednesday, Sept. 25, in Hotel San Carlos. It will be a luncheon meeting. Four state chairmen are expected to be present to discuss the League's viewpoint on personnel, public assistance, foreign policy and education. This was announced at the meeting of the new board of directors, held last week on Wednesday at the Big Sur home of Mrs. Carl L. Voss, the scene of an all-day session.

Although complete explanation of the ballot measures which pertain to matters of which the league has made a study is reserved for the meeting scheduled to take place October 30, there will be some discussion of them at next Wednesday's meeting.

Mrs. Perry Newberry, league director, presented her resignation which was accepted with regret. Mrs. Newberry has been elected to the Monterey County Democratic Central Committee so, in accordance with the league's non-partisan policy, her resignation had to take place.

Mrs. Howard Walters was appointed publications chairman. She has been directing the local propaganda study group, which is being discontinued.

Believing that democracy cannot be defended unless understood, each member of the board is inviting a group to read and discuss the A.B.C. of the U.S.A., a series of miniature essays on democracy issued by the national league. In turn, each member of that group will entertain another group for the same purpose.

The new board of directors reads as follows: Mrs. Carl L. Voss, president; Miss Orre Haseltine, first vice-president; Mrs. William Hargis of Corral de Tierra, second vice-president; Mrs. Lee Kellogg, treasurer (replacing Mrs. B. D. Marx Greene who has held this position for several years); Miss Ardelia Work, director from Pacific Grove; Mrs. Howard Clark, again director of the foreign policy study group. Mrs. Karl S. Rendtorff heads the world affairs section. Mrs. Andrew French, the former director from Monterey, will be in charge of the economic and public welfare department, Miss Lydia G. Weld is the legislative chairman, and director of publicity is Mrs. Guy S. Curtis of Monterey. Mrs. LeGro Pressley of Salinas is the new membership chairman.

WOMEN TO ROLL BANDAGES FOR LEPERS TUESDAY

The women of the Church of the Wayfarer meet next Tuesday, Sept. 24, at 10:30 a.m. in the recreation room to roll bandages for lepers. Bring lunches. Coffee will be served.

Following this, at 2:30 p.m., the Carmel Missionary Society will hear Mrs. Blanchard Steeves discuss "Uprooted Americans," a study of the migrant situation.

Dr. James E. Crowther will lead the devotions. Tea will be served at the close of the meeting.

Something About This Suggests Reason Why Horse Racing Is So Fascinating

Here's a letter I received from Hal Garrott this week. It is one way of telling me I was all wet in my review last week.

"Dear Marjorie: I thought you might be interested in the following coincidence—or was it telepathy?

"At the very time Miss Dall was playing my pieces at the Musical Art Club, John McDonald Lyon in Seattle, from whom I haven't heard from in months, was writing me the following:

" 'Have you shown your pieces to Anna Grant Dall? I think she would be interested. This lady, who is now in Carmel, is an excellent teacher of piano who established a very good reputation here in Seattle. I never had the pleasure of meeting her, but I've heard pupils of hers play—and they were GOOD.'

"Some boost from the scholarly, conservative John! Talk about telepathy—also had had a letter (the first in two years) from William H. Barnes, just about America's greatest organ architect and organist. (Look him up in 'Who's Who.' You mentioned him in your talk.) From the date mark he must have written it about the time Miss Dall was playing my stuff. I won't repeat his flattering comment, but will tell you the news no one else has heard yet. He writes he is coming to visit us later on, and I'm certain he'd play an organ recital here if I insist. Yours, Hal."

I did look Mr. Barnes up in "Who's Who" and they give him about three inches. One of the things he did was to build an organ, church size, when he was 15 years old in his father's home. He's an author, too—"The Odyssey of an Organ Enthusiast and his Wife" was his latest book, and he's associate editor of The American Organist. —MARJORIE WARREN

MEXICAN PONY TO BRING CASH TO COMMUNITY CENTER

J. W. West of Del Monte Kennels has presented Jaco, a little Mexican pony, to the Community Center Auxiliary, and energetic members of that organization are selling tickets which will entitle some lucky person to take Jaco home with him. Jaco will attend the Monterey County Fair next week-end and during that time his future owner will be announced. Proceeds from this venture will be turned over to the building fund of the Community Center.

CYMBAL'S PORT ON SAN CARLOS STREET WRECKED

The gateway to THE CYMBAL office on San Carlos street was attacked suddenly and without warning on Monday of this week by the rear of a woman's car which backed too far in the driveway of the Harris Service Station. A portion of the brick wall, one concrete post and the gate were shattered. The post bearing THE CYMBAL sign was shaken by the blast, but maintained its equilibrium. The "all clear" signal was sounded almost immediately after the attack. Despite rumors to the contrary there is absolutely no evidence to prove that either the instrument of destruction or its driver was in the secret employ of the Pine Cone.

Road conditions are good from Fresno via Auberry or Toll House, thence to Big Creek and Huntington Lake, reports the California State Automobile Association. Both roads are paved and oiled throughout. The easiest grades are eastbound through Auberry and returning westbound via Toll House.

OVER THE CRACKER BARREL AT ROSIE'S

We hear that:

Faint chimes of wedding bells came up the valley from down toward Gonzales, or maybe it was Greenfield, and rumor has it that L'il Wilbur of wild-horse riding fame is the lucky guy or the victim—depending on your point of view. And if it is true, don't get the idea that conscription has anything to do with it, because Wilbur has been looking for a house these last six months and he said it was so he could bring his grandmother up here to keep house for him. But to date nobody has seen hide nor hair of any grandmother.

This married bliss business is certainly catching and ever since Bill Whitney brought back his bride and the renamed Hitchcock Canyon Honeymoon Canyon, Mid-wife Schoonover has been falling in and out of love. Right now he's in, and he sits at the counter every evening with a far-away look in his big blue eyes and doesn't even answer when someone says "What'll you have?" Looks like Mrs. Leo Vasques is going to lose another steady boarder.

Summer is about over and we know it not only by the first fall rain that came on this week but also by the fact that the K. W. Pierces loaded up the truck and went back to Carmel till come spring. They put their horses over at the stables and took off last Sunday. Only delay was caused by the big blue Persian cat which refused to leave, and it took Ann the best part of the morning to coax him into the car with her. He will probably come back as he did last fall, but he is such a nice cat that he'll find a "welcome home" sign on his old home if he gets back up here.

Last Tuesday there was a complete and vivid rainbow about four in the afternoon and it ended right smack up at Dad Wilmot's new place which was very fitting because Dad has almost completed the first unit of his new house which may not be built over a pot of gold, but certainly will house a heart of gold. Dad has built the general living-dining-cooking-recreation room on such generous lines that you can get all the residents of the valley in there and still have room for more. He has a great big fireplace that fairly shouts "Welcome!" as you go in the front door, and windows that give you one of the prettiest views you ever want to see. Doesn't look as if Dad was going to have a chance to get lonesome.

Norm and Alice Stevenson accepted an invitation from Chet Clausen to go fishing last Sunday on the bay in Chet's boat Ida. He said he would take them for a fine ride—and Ida did. First she wouldn't start with the big engine so they put that in the cabin and got out the little auxiliary one. It went all right for a little while but then just quit and the three of them spent the afternoon drifting around and finally ended up clear over by Seaside, and like Mary Ann McCarthy they didn't get a gol darn clam.

Mott Hitchcock, who is famous for his cuisine, has gone rebel and instead of doing the honors last Monday for his bridge club as he always used to do, he took the crowd over to White Oak for Evelyn's famous fried chickens. Then he took his guests, who were the Dr. Bill Bingamans of Salinas, the Elmo Lewises of Pacific Grove and the Russell Abbotts and Gladys Hitchcock of Salinas, back to his house for cards. Mott and Gladys won high score. Nothing like keeping things in the family.

When someone asked Joe Algrava if he was going to enter his horse in the Fair at Monterey he wasn't very definite in his answer, but if he isn't going to put it in the stock class then why does he go around with its mane all braided in about 16 little pickaninny braids all tied up with red ribbons? He's got a pretty nice horse there and Joe needn't be so modest.

Those nice Wolfermans are going back east just when we began to get acquainted with them. Story goes that papa wants to do some hunting but refuses to shoot any of the game that runs around here—he thinks we should preserve ours and pick on Kansas or other places. Nice spirit—but we hope the east gets plenty cold and that they all come back here by the holidays. We mean the Wolfermans—not teh game.

In the C.B. Note Box we found the following, written in longhand on ruled tablet paper:

"Social Editor—Ye Cracker Barrel:

"The autumn social season was officially launched with a small but beautifully appointed dinner party given to honor the birthday anniversary of Pickens, that charming enfant of the Conger-Heron menage. The affair was complete, from candle-lighted table to be-candled cake and ice cream served ou naturel.

"The guest list included various members of the canine smart set and some from the feline register—the latter, in hope that they would 'regret.' Among those present was the golden boy who has been philandering about with some of the summer colony and has rather obviously wound up the season with an orgy of whiffs.

"However, he made a punctual appearance, odoriferously groomed. (As they say, 'all of some people's taste is in their nose.') He presented Pickens with a heart-shaped gold locket on a gold chain, and protestations of affection and felicity on (true?) blue note paper. Miss Pickens seemed gratified but her pulsations were kept under control.

"Among other material tokens of congratulations were a story book in color from the three Little Kittens with a note saying 'Sorry but Mummy considers us too tender for nocturnal festivities,' and a fine fat grey catnip mouse from that dark and handsofe Coeur de Leon, Esq., who also regretted. (Off the record note: Pickens got drunk as a pole cat on the mouse but she said the next morning—'Every dog is supposed to have his day—why not a night now and then? And whose birthday is this, anyway?')

"Miss Pickens evidenced considerable more enthusiasm for the mouse than for the 14 carat. Could it have been coquettry or Anastasia's influence?

The largest box, from Cynthia Lawrence, contained an interesting piece of costume jewelry in hemp, which strangely resembled a noose, and bore a card reading 'A necklace for you Dearie!'

"A few simple games and a bout of intellectual conversation completed the evening which termina-

CARMEL HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Until September 10, about every ex-member of dear old M. U. H. S. was looking forward to a school year of ease, the first month of which would be one continuous, hilarious lark. The morning of September 10 found these happy souls gathered about the school prepared to raise the very substantial roof. What fun! The afternoon of that memorable day found many frolicsome students going home to do their far-from-easy homework. What disillusionment!

When the students found out that the set-up was of a different nature than they had expected, their whole attitude seemed to take on a new aspect. Each and every one—with very few exceptions—decided to get down and work hard. We became eager to help all we could toward the development of our school. Every one was anxious to get organized. As a result, an excellent school constitution was drafted and accepted by the student body, within six school days. By the second week no less than 17 clubs and organizations had been formed and are now well under way.

Co-operation between students and teachers is really remarkable. Students who before tried to do as little studying as possible, are now working like Trojans, while the teachers have altered their proposed plans at the candid suggestions of the students.

It is needless to say that students and faculty alike are really proud of their beautiful school, just as every member of the community must be.

Here's to Carmel High! May it enjoy a long life of success and happiness.

LIBRARY GIFT

Among the first books donated to the Doris Watson Memorial Library of the new Carmel High School is the handsome "Story of America in Pictures," the gift of Mrs. Webster Street.

"We deeply appreciate this contribution to our growing library," said Principal Otto Bardarson, "for although the Harrison Memorial and the Monterey County libraries have been most generous, the school is naturally eager to develop its own reference shelves as an aid to student research."

The library contains at present more than 900 books, most of them loaned by the Monterey County Free Library.

GIRLS' SPORTS

This year the program of girls' sports will be somewhat different than most of us are used to, but nevertheless they will be as much fun as Miss Gulmert, our gym teacher, can make them. The first part of the year we will have archery and golf. The school will furnish the bows and arrows for archery, but we will use our own clubs for golf.

In just a short time we will start swimming, badminton, and tennis. Through an arrangement with the Mission Ranch Club it is possible for the students to use the Club's swimming pool, tennis, and badminton courts after school.

As soon as the showers are finished we will start team sports. At the present time we are learning the rules for the games and the fundamentals.

Social and modern dancing will be started. Modern dancing will be strange to most of us but we're ready to try anything.

CLUBS

The last period of each day has been set apart for clubs. Each student has a choice of two clubs which he may join. One club meets Tuesdays and Thursdays, the other Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. There are a great many clubs to choose from but the most popular are: A Cappella, Photography, Rifle, and Typing. There is also a study hall for those who feel that they have enough subjects and would rather get a little homework done. The first meeting of the clubs was held Tuesday, September 17. Following is a list of the different clubs and students:

Sports Club—This club is for the boys and girls who want to learn about different sports from the standpoint of a spectator. They will also learn to officiate and organize sports. Miss Gulmert is advisor.

Cartoon Club—For those interested in humorous drawings. Outstanding work will appear in the school publications. Miss Burtis is advisor to the cartoonists.

Dramatics Club—This is for people interested not only in acting alone but also costuming, scenery construction, lighting, speech, pantomime, make-up and other problems of play production. The older and younger people will be divided into separate groups, the older students studying more advanced problems and supervisorial work. The actors are under the supervision of Mr. Scott.

Photography Club—This club will have the use of the dark room to develop and print their own pictures. They will also study the camera and picture-taking and will conduct a photography contest at the end of the year. Mr. Getsinger is the advisor.

Rifle Club—With a rifle range right across the highway, the aims of this club will be good markmanship. Mr. Hobson will instruct them.

Yearbook Club—Under the supervision of Mr. Craig the members will put out our first yearbook, which they hope will be an example for many years to come.

A Cappella—Because of the many experienced singers in the school, we expect to have an excellent choir and will enter the San Jose Choir Festival for high schools in the spring. The singers are under the supervision of Miss Knowles.

Commerce Club—This club is for those interested in modern business practice. One of their many activities will be putting out the school paper. Mr. Miller is the advisor.

Typing Club—The largest club of them all. Here those who could not get typing into their schedules or wish to improve may work with the help of Mr. Miller.

Newspaper Club—This is one of the busiest clubs in the school. Besides publishing a school paper every two weeks, they must write for the school section of the two Carmel papers. Mr. Craig is the advisor.

Orchestra—Those who make up the school orchestra are under the supervision of Mr. Bartlett.

Safe Driving Club—This club is particularly for those who expect to get their driver's licenses in the near future. The members of the club will consider the care of the auto, the cost of motoring and owning a car. Special attention will be given to safety of driver, passenger and pedestrian. Mr. Getsinger is the advisor.

Dance Club—This club is for the purpose of teaching the girls modern dance technique as well as composition of dances. Miss Gulmert is teaching them.

Art Club—The main idea of this club is originality and experimentation. The work will be individual and each person will work on the thing he or she is most interested in. There will be: block printing, stenciling, silk screening, marionettes, puppets, sand casting and wood carving. Miss Burtis will head this club.

The Bachelor's Club will teach boys training, how to cook for a barbecue, and the essentials of good grooming. Mrs. Paulsen is the advisor.

Junior Coach Club—This is for those boys who are interested in learning leadership and supervision of athletics. During the seventh period the boys will organize the program and after school will go to the Mission Ranch where they will supervise the Boys' Intramural Activities. Mr. Hobson heads the group.

Study Hall—These people have the Tuesday and Thursday study hall or Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Mrs. Walker is in charge.

Those motorists who are interested in geological phenomena will find the route followed by U.S. 66 between Laguna and Grants in New Mexico appealing, says the touring department of the National Automobile Club. The numerous lava beds to be seen in this vicinity evidence the eruption of Mt. Taylor, the high peak to the north of the highway, at some time within the past thousand years.

Vallely Lectures Begin Again on October 11

Presented by Kit Whitman, Lorita Baker Vallely's second season on the Monterey Peninsula opens October 11 at Hotel Del Monte's Auditorium. It is her eleventh season in San Francisco.

This distinguished commentator on world affairs and current literature appears at Del Monte each second Friday of the month from October through May, with the exception of the month of December which Mrs. Vallely will spend in New York and Washington.

As before, season coupon books for these Current Review Fridays are interchangeable and may be used in San Francisco, Palo Alto, Pasadena or Hollywood. Mrs. Vallely's talks interpret the significant developments from month to month in national and international affairs and in the world of literature. A list of the worthwhile books mentioned in Mrs. Vallely's reviews is given at each lecture to everyone who attends.

The series, which was an outstanding event in the cultural life of the Peninsula last winter, will be even more heavily patronized this winter. With the influx of army officers' wives, a new group of cultured American women has come into being and has already evinced active interest, led by Mrs. Joseph W. Stilwell, wife of Major General Stilwell of Fort Ord.

Carmel Boy Scouts Start Season

Troop 85, Boy Scouts of America, held its first meeting of the season last Friday night and the following officers were elected: Bob Holm, Indian Patrol leader; Jim Kelsey, Hawk Patrol leader; Russell Bohlke, Flying Eagle Patrol leader; Harvey Gardner, Pioneer Patrol leader; Jim Kelsey, Senior Patrol leader; Motje Hansen, scribe; Bob Holm, treasurer; Bill Wishart, equipment manager; Phil Malloway, librarian.

Jack Gansel was appointed to make a door for a room in the meeting hall.

Plans for the season's Scouting were discussed and among the projects will be a rifle team.

The Scouts will meet hereafter from 4 p.m. until 6 p.m. in order to get more time for outdoor activities. —MOTJE HANSEN, Scribe.

New Books at the Library

"Westward from Vinland," by H. R. Holand, tells of the Norse in America and more particularly of the discovery of the Kensington stone with its ancient runic inscriptions. Incidentally a similar stone and its legend is the basis for a recent modern novel by N. Shute, "An Old Captivity."

"Then Censor Marches On," by M. L. Ernst, brings censorship in art and literature, as well as in the movies, up to date, and indicates censorship today in other matters of wider import.

"A Liberal in Wartime," by W. Nelles, is the sympathetic biography of a little know young American lawyer, Albert De Silver, whose love of freedom and justice is as pertinent today as 25 years ago.

"Margaret Fuller," by M. Wade, is not just another version of New England Transcendentalism, because the author concentrates rather on her literary work in New York and the four final tragic years in Italy, culminating in the shipwreck of herself, her husband, and child.

"Boom Town," With a Four-Star Cast Opens Sunday at State Theatre

CLARK GABLE and CLAUDETTE COLBERT in "Boom Town" opening at the State Theatre in Monterey this Sunday.

What "Test Pilot" spelled in the way of action in the skies above the earth, "Boom Town," the picture opening Sunday at the State Theatre in Monterey, writes in bold letters on the surface of oil fields sprinkled all over the west.

Not since Gable, Loy, Tracy and Barrymore appeared in the aviation story have four such stars been assembled as head the cast of "Boom Town" — Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, Claudette Colbert and Hedy Lamarr.

More than that, the picture adds Frank Morgan, a star in his own right; Chill Wills, who rode to fame in "The Westerner"; Marion Martin, torch-singing star of Broadway's "Follies" and "Scandals" shows; the popular Minna Gombell; Lionel Atwill; five-year-old Casey Johnson; Baby Quintanilla, and a dog!

WE THINK THEY'RE INTERESTING

RACHEL MORTON

If there is a person on the Monterey Peninsula who has a voice which deserves proper training, and if that person is interested in the chance of being awarded a season's scholarship with Rachel Morton, call Miss Morton immediately at Carmel 1573-W, and arrange an interview. Miss Morton will give such a scholarship to the person selected by three judges as having the voice most worthy of being developed. The judges are to be Noel Sullivan, Kit Whitman and Marjorie Warren.

Among the artists to join the long list of musicians who have come to make their home in Carmel recently, none is more worthy of honor than Miss Morton. The great Jean de Reszké thought so highly of her than when he heard her sing, shortly after she went to Europe to complete her musical training, he took her as a pupil and taught her gratuitously for three years. Just before he died he witnessed her debut in the Opera at Nice as Donna Anna in "Don Giovanni."

Following this Miss Morton became a member of the British National Opera Co., singing leading roles in "Tosca," "Aida," "Tannhauser," "Lohengrin," "Die Meistersinger," "Parsifal" and "Tristan und Isolde." Then at the invitation of Walter Damrosch she returned to America to sing with the New York Symphony Orchestra in concert performances of "Tristan und Isolde." This was followed by recital appearances which, according to the New York Times, revealed her as "an artist of rare gifts, vocal and interpretative."

In Europe she won success as distinct as she had previously made in this country. Her press notices everywhere are particularly glowing. The Christian Science Monitor, for instance, says, "Held her large audience captive through a program which probably will in retrospect become an outstanding event of the winter . . . Dowered with a radiant personality and gifted with a voice of singularly even and lyrical quality."

We speak for her personality, not having heard her dramatic soprano voice, and in speaking say we can think of no personality with such qualities of warmth, charm and enthusiasm. It would be a great privilege to study with her.

Ruth Austin Dance Classes Resume Next Monday

Ruth Austin resumes all her dance classes Monday, Sept. 30, and this season they have the newly constructed studio to work in. It is built into the ground floor of the new house which the Byington Fords had built next door to their former home in the Mission Tract and into which they moved last week. It is complete with showers and dressing rooms and the dance floor is covered with a special linoleum, guaranteed non-skid and splinter-proof.

The glorified exercise class with the dance approach, organized at the special request of women in town who know they need slimming and want to have fun doing it, will get under way the week of September 30, too. It will meet at a before-dinner hour, twice a week.

This year Miss Austin is planning on having guest teachers come at various six-week intervals to give special work to her advanecd class. Although nothing definite has yet been arranged, Miss Austin hopes to get a ranking ballet teacher to work with her at some period during the winter, and also has in mind a man, formerly with the Shan Kar group, who will teach Oriental dancing.

Leo Lyons, manager of Carmel Theatre, has been in San Francisco all week on what he calls a vacation.

Mae Rosencrans is back, preceding the harp with which she beguiled so many of us last year. Again, she stays with her aunt, Miss Helen Rosenkrans, of Carmel Point.

Mrs. Robert Chesney Palmer of New York City, whose husband heads the Cluett, Peabody people who make Arrow shirts and collars and stuff, flew to Carmel for a week of work with her voice teacher, Rachel Morton. Mrs. Palmer had a lesson each day, then flew back again.

Mrs. Walton Partridge of Caldwell, N.J., who arrived in California to attend the Sacramento wedding of her son, George Alton Bradford, to Catherine Haddock on September 7, is now staying with her sister, Rachel Morton, in Carmel. Miss Morton went to Sacramento for the wedding, too, and her gorgeous soprano voice was heard in solo at the Presbyterian Church where the ceremony took place. The newly wed couple are at present honeymooning here.

Clay Otto is back at the Carmel Art Gallery again after a month in Sacramento where he was guest curator for the art exhibit at the California State Fair. Clay had a most interesting time.

Mrs. Perry Newberry and Mrs. Smith Midkiff left this town Tuesday night by motorcar, spent that night at the Big Basin, parted the following morning with Mrs. Newberry heading northwest for Sacramento where she will attend the meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee, she being recently elected to the Democratic County Central Committee. Mrs. Midkiff left for the Fair and will return the end of this week. Mrs. Newberry will be home around about October 1.

Charles Simpson, University of California graduate in electrical engineering and radio technician for Lial's Music Shop, returned yesterday from Palo Alto where he attended to funeral services for his wife, Elizabeth, who died last week after giving birth to a baby girl.

Miss Kathryn Bier of Carmel joined her friend, Miss Bertha E. Roberts of San Francisco, at El Encanto Hotel in Santa Barbara recently.

William Gaul Doolittle is the brand new son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton M. Doolittle of Hatton Fields. Tipping the scales at six pounds and 15 ounces, young Bill came into the world last Monday morning at 10:23 o'clock. His paternal grandparent is William Wallace Doolittle of Pasadena and there is a maternal grandmother, Mrs. Louis Gaul of Everett, Wash. He has an uncle and aunt in Carmel, too—Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Doolittle of Carmelo and Third.

Agnes Haviland, who works for the board of equalization in Sacramento, is in Carmel on holiday, stopping at the Carmel Inn. Miss Haviland is an English woman, China born. Her ability to converse fluently in Chinese, Japanese and French, as well as English, makes her services invaluable as an interpreter. Furthermore, she's a particularly interesting person.

Celeste Welch of Berkeley is resting, hiking and driving around our country with Millicent Sears this week and enjoying Millicent's beautiful Highland Studio.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Shelton of Pasadena, frequent visitors to Carmel, arrived at Pine Inn this week. Other guests from that same city include Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Shaw (who are honeymooning there), and Mrs. R. D. Bayly with her two sons and their French governess. The Baylys left Wednesday.

Mrs. Rolfe Tainter and her daughter are seeing Carmel for the first time and hail from North Dakota. Miss Frances Whorten is a Sacramento visitor. Dr. Homer van Horn and his mother, Mrs. Nora van Horn are at Pine Inn from Belmont where Dr. van Horn is assistant to Dr. Warren at the Belmont Tubercular Sanitarium.

Wednesday evening barbecues are rapidly becoming a weekly tradition at the Mission Ranch Club. Members and their friends made up a group of about 25 this week.

Last Sunday marked the first of the weekly series of badminton luncheons and about 20 members gathered together for that.

Jack Grover of Kansas City stopped in Carmel Monday on his way back to Stanford where he was graduated last spring. He returns to get his master's degree in foreign business. His visit here was with Robert Emmett O'Brien who has been an intimate friend of Jack's family for many years and who has known Jack since he was "so high." Bob's house will be open to Jack whenever he can find time to get down from Stanford, and that may be good news to a certain person over in Pebble Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Trevvett and Mrs. Trevvett's brother, Walter Egan, are back in their Hatton Fields home after a month in Victoria, B.C.

Miss Natalie Hatton, daughter of the Howard D. Hattons of Carmel Valley, is now in New York where she is visiting relatives for a few days before going to New Haven where she will be a guest of her aunt, Mrs. G. E. Nichols, and attend school there with her cousins. She will be away about a year.

Gregory Teaby's marriage to Marian Lyon of Los Angeles came as quite a surprise to all his friends here. The ceremony was performed in Las Vegas, Nev., Sept. 9. Last week he brought his bride to visit his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Walter L. Teaby of Oak Grove. Now they are in Los Angeles where Greg has a job with Douglas Aircraft. He's working with his pal, Jack Jordan, late of the Carmel hotel business (Pine Inn, of course). Greg and his bride met last year when she came to Monterey to visit her friend, Mrs. Henry Hansen.

Jean Cowan and Warren Trabant were married last Sunday in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. Jean wore dusty pink and butterfly orchids and she must have looked exceedingly beautiful. Her mother, Mrs. Frederick Godwin, is staying on until next Wednesday, then she'll dash off to meet Freddie and together they'll make the hotel convention in Seattle and then drop gently down the coast towards home.

Miss Anne Whyte and Miss Alice Anne Anderson, motoring westward from Kenosha, Wis., arrived in Carmel last Wednesday to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Flanders. Miss Whyte is Mrs. Flanders' niece and a sister of Happy Whyte who visited here three years ago.

Lew and Louise Kramer had two very distinguished visitors staying with them last week-end—Paul Rilling, wha developed the Rilling method of permanent waving, and Charles Somerset Vann, largest distributor of beauty products on the west coast. They had a lot of fun here and left by plane Sunday evening for Chicago where they will attend the National Beauty Trades Show at the Hotel Stevens.

George Wishart, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Wishart, owners of Dolores Bakary, left this week to enter Colorado School of Mines at Golden, Colo. George is a graduate of Sunset and Monterey Union High schools. He was accompanied by his mother as far as Rock Springs, Wyo., where she visited friends and will stop over on her return at Salt Lake City for a visit with others.

Mrs. Thomas Glatt of Hopland, Calif., dropped in at THE CYMBAL office yesterday to tell that she couldn't find Pine Inn which she had opened and managed for J. F. Devendorf in 1903. She left six months after she came and went to San Francisco to get married. She hadn't been back since, until yesterday, and she was flabbergasted. She said Devendorf had tried to sell her about half a block about where THE CYMBAL office is now, but that it was "way up" in the woods and she wouldn't buy it.

Washington Did Not Oppose, Rather, He Voiced Opinion that Third Term for President Might at Times Be Wise

The following recent speech by Senator Joseph F. Guffey in the United States Senate explodes through historical record the fallacious belief that has come down through the years, and is this year being reiterated volubly by Roosevelt-haters, that Washington and Presidents who have followed him have opposed a third term for the chief executive of the United States. It is pointed out by Senator Guffey that the Constitution does not in any way restrict the number of terms any President may serve and he declares that "this was not an accident. It was deliberate . . . was thoroughly debated by the founding fathers in the Constitutional Convention."

We have been repeatedly told, frequently by individuals who should and in some cases do know better, that there is a sacred tradition against a third term for any President of the United States.

Some of those who are most vocal in this respect have, I regret to say, apparently operated on the assumption that constant repetition will make it so.

Naturally, if the American people could be brought to believe that such a tradition existed the immediate end of such partisans would be gained, regardless of historical fact.

The whole truth is that the alleged tradition against a third term for any President is a political fiction.

There is no such tradition. There never was any such tradition.

Nothing in the Constitution restricts the number of terms any President may serve.

That was not an accident. It was deliberate. The question of Presidential tenure was thoroughly debated by the founding fathers in the Constitutional Convention.

Guided by George Washington as its chairman, the Convention finally accepted Washington's own view that any restriction would be unwise if not actually dangerous.

"I can see no propriety" Washington wrote, "in precluding ourselves from the services of any man, who, in some great emergency, shall be deemed, universally, most capable of serving the public."

Alexander Hamilton, Gouverneur Morris, John Jay, Rufus King, James Otis, and other great leaders of the day agreed with Washington.

There can be no doubt whatever that George Washington withdrew after two terms because he was tired and wanted to go home.

He had accepted a second term only because of the then critical posture of our affairs with foreign nations.

With his country at peace, he felt he had earned his retirement.

At no time, either publicly or privately, did he ever assert as a political maxim that no President should serve more than two terms.

Thomas Jefferson had more definite views.

He advocated a single 6-year term for Presidents and a single limited term for Representatives and Senators, with 4- or 6-year terms for Justices of the Supreme Court.

Jefferson favored a single term for the President, but served two terms himself and in addition dictated Presidential policy for four additional terms through Madison and Monroe.

Although favoring restricted tenure, he had been in favor of Washington continuing almost indefinitely as Chief Executive, and admitted his own willingness to serve a third term of division over his successor should lead to a danger of monarchy.

While at the height of his popularity as President he might easily have secured a constitutional amendment prohibiting a third term, but he made no effort whatever to do so.

Andrew Jackson believed in a single term of 4 to 6 years, and so told the Congress no less than six times in annual messages, yet he served two terms and rejected a third on the single ground that "the time has now come when advanced age and a broken frame warn me to retire from public life."

At no time did he give any intimation that tradition played any part in his decision.

It was almost 100 years after Washington's day before this tradition was advanced publicly against any candidate.

The victim was Grant, who took the position that the only way to prevent a third term was to amend the Constitution, and that "It may happen in the future history of the country that to change an Executive because he has been 8 years in office will prove unfortunate, if not disastrous."

His political opponents quickly rushed an anti-third-term resolution through Congress, but Grant went into the Republican convention of 1880 without patronage or organized support and led the balloting for 36 consecutive votes before the stop-Grant minorities united on the dark horse, Garfield.

Grant was the first President who had an opportunity to reject the tradition.

He did so, and was thwarted only through a political cabal which defeated him in convention maneuvering.

Theodore Roosevelt was the first President in American history to bring the issue to the people themselves.

Denied a Republican third-term nomination by political chicanery, he formed his own Bull Moose organization and soundly trounced the regular Republican nominee, but so split the Republican strength that Woodrow Wilson, with a minority vote, became President.

Many who now profess conscientious objections to a third term supported Theodore Roosevelt in that fight.

Had his health not been wrecked by his fight for the League of Nations, Wilson might have been a candidate for a third term.

In any event he had no opposition in principle.

"The people might more likely be cheated than served by further limitations of the President's eligibility" he wrote, "His fighting power in their behalf would be immensely weakened."

The people themselves have never been given an opportunity to vote on the issue in a clean-cut test.

The "tradition," therefore, must be seen for what it is, an artificial, fictitious, contrivance of politicians, used heretofore in our political history solely to thwart popular will by denying renomination to a popular President.

Had our political history been different—had the policy of the "Virginia Presidents" become the "tradition" of the people—the theory that something should not be done because it was not customary would still be a mischievous theory, for it would establish an extraconstitutional, invisible Government of precedent and usage foreign to the spirit of the American people.

It would substitute a system of taboos, based upon no consideration except custom and habit, for the Constitution and the laws of the land.

The founding fathers felt, and many Presidents reiterated, that the American people should be free to choose their Chief Executive without legal or other hindrance apart from the Constitution.

The American people have a right to resent attempts to tell them what they shall or shall not do in exercising this legal right.

They should resent it, for history is on their side.

City Getting Mad At Evasion of Zoning Law

ago to clean up the two-kitchens-on-a-lot problem which stands to menace the future of Carmel as a residential community. It appears that about a month ago Hudson snagged one F. Duarte and got him to plead guilty to violation of the zoning law in this wise. On Duarte's promise to eradicate objectionable features on his property he was given a suspended fine of $250.

Then the city attorney started after bigger prey and he landed, of all things, on Barney Segal. He charged that Barney was violating the zoning provision by having, in a rear cottage he had constructed on one lot on Monte Verde street, facilities in a room that might be used for cooking purposes. The superior court, in which Billy did the charging, granted him a permanent injunction.

"Now," says the city attorney, "I'll pick out of the numerous violators on a list the building inspector has provided me, someone to make a criminal charge against and we won't stand for any suspended sentence and we won't ask for any injunction; we'll get a fine slapped on him or her and it will hurt."

The city attorney decided on this summary action because, as he explained it, it isn't summary. There has been much in the papers about the city's crusade and property owners should by this time know on which side their bread is not buttered. If they haven't cleaned up the situation on their property it's just going to be too bad—and the city attorney and the council are not going to stop until they finish.

OTHER MATTERS

The chief of the fire department asked, and the council acceded to the request, that the water company be instructed to remove the hydrant from Alta and Vista where it isn't needed to eScond and Lobos where is very much is.

Ordinances were given first reading which will raise the tax collector's salary from $135 to $150 a month and the city judge's from $50 to $75.

A resolution was adopted granting Acting Building Inspector Floyd Adams a $15 a month allowance for the use of his privately-owned automobile.

The police department was authorized to buy a typewriter as cheaply as possible.

Adjournment was taken to the regular meeting date, October 9.

ted at a suitable hour.

"The delightfully unspoiled subdeb, accomplished though she undoubtedly is at outdoor sports, especially running and wrestling, says that she has no desire to leave the Valley and her elder brothers while they need her to make a home for them. She has no wish for a career but will continue to live a simple wholesome rural life. She shyly admitted that 'Sally,' that mythical character of Robles folklore, is her ideal.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS

—o—

Pursuant to resolution of the Sanitary Board of the Carmel Sanitary District directing this notice, said Sanitary Board hereby invites sealed proposals or bids for the following work to be done and improvements to be made in said District, to-wit:

That Camino Del Monte from the existing sewer manhole in Pico Avenue to a flushing inlet to be constructed hereunder five hundred (500) feet northwesterly from the said manhole in Pico Avenue; Santa Rita Street from the existing sewer manhole in Pico Avenue northwesterly to a manhole to be constructed hereunder in Serra Avenue and Serra Avenue from the said manhole to a flushing inlet to be constructed hereunder one hundred twenty-five (125) feet northeasterly from said last mentioned manhole; Pico Avenue from the existing sewer manhole in the intersection of Pico Avenue and Santa Rita Street to a manhole to be constructed hereunder five (5) feet easterly from the western line of Guadalupe Street; Guadalupe Street from the last above mentioned manhole in Pico Avenue to a manhole to be constructed hereunder in Serra Avenue; Cabrillo Street from the existing sewer manhole in Pico Avenue to a manhole to be constructed hereunder three hundred (300) feet northerly therefrom; the right of way reserved for public utilities in the rear of the even numbered lots 2 to 22 inclusive, all in Block 156 and Pico Avenue, from a manhole to be constructed hereunder on the existing sewer in Pico Avenue at a point one hundred forty (140) easterly from the existing manhole in the intersection of said Pico Avenue and Camino Del Monte northwesterly to a flushing inlet to be constructed hereunder in the northwestern corner of said lot 22; and Serra Avenue from the hereinabove mentioned manhole to be constructed in the intersection of Serra Avenue and Guadalupe Street easterly three hundred (300) feet to a flushing inlet to be constructed hereunder, all be improved by:

(a) Constructing therein six-inch diameter vitrified clay pipe sewers;

(b) Constructing therein brick and concrete manholes with cast iron frames and covers and galvanized wrought iron steps;

(c) Constructing therein vitrified clay pipe flushing inlets with cast iron frames and covers;

(d) Constructing therein vitrified clay Tee branches and four-inch diameter vitrified clay pipe laterals from all of said sewers which are constructed in streets to the property lines fronting on all lots improved with buildings designed or used for human habitation; and

(e) Constructing therein vitrified clay Tee branches from said sewer so to be constructed in the right of way in Block 156 above mentioned, opposite all lots improved with buildings designed or used for human habitation.

All of said work to be done and improvements to be made are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and to the lines and grades and at the elevations as shown and delineated upon the plans, profiles and specifications made therefor and adopted by the Sanitary Board of said District, entitled "Carmel Sanitary District, Carmel Woods, Sanitary Sewers" on file in the office of the Secretary of the Sanitary Board, reference to which document is hereby made for a full and detailed description of said proposed work and improvements, and for further particulars.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds will be issued to represent assessments of $25.00 or over, remaining unpaid more than thirty days from the date of the warrant, for the cost of said work and improvements, and to extend over a period of four (4) years from the second day of January next succeeding the next October fifteenth following their date, which bonds shall bear interest at the rate of six (6) percent per annum and shall be issued and the principal and interest paid thereon, all according to the provisions of Part III of said Improvement Act of 1911.

Notice is hereby given that the Sanitary Board of said District has, by Resolution No. 95, ascertained and determined the general prevailing rate of per diem wages in the locality in which said public work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman needed to execute the contract, and the general prevailing rate of per diem wages for legal holiday and overtime work in said locality, a copy of which is contained in the specifications adopted by said Board for said work and improvement, a copy of which specifications is on file in the office of the Secretary of said Board of said Sanitary District, to which reference is hereby made for a particular statement of same.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a check payable to the Carmel Sanitary District, certified by a responsible bank for an amount which shall not be less than ten per cent (10%) of the aggregate of the proposal, or by a bond for the said amount and so payable, signed by the bidder and two sureties, who shall justify before an officer competent to administer an oath, in double the said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions.

Said sealed proposals or bids shall be delivered to the Secretary of said Board on or before 7:30 P.M. of the 24th day of September, 1940, said time being not less than ten days from the time of the first publication and posting of this notice. Bids will be opened on said day and hour.

"I Love You Again" Comes Sunday

WILLIAM POWELL and MYRNA LOY in "I Love You Again"

A wilderness woman in technicolor is what you'll see tonight and tomorrow at your Carmel Theatre when Ray Milland and Akim Tamiroff appear in "Untamed" with Patricia Morrison as the lady. William Frawley and Jane Darwell are in the supporting cast. It's a north woods epic and it's filmed from Sinclair Lewis's famous story, "Mantrap."

"I Love You Again" teams up Myrna Loy and Bill Powell again in one of those mad comedies of marital life that attempt, more or less, to follow in the footsteps of "The Thin Man." A Dashiel Hammett flavor permeates the plot, which concerns amnesia, a dual personality, and the return of the con man after a second blow on the head.

'Intermezzo,' One of Loveliest Pictures Ever Made, at Playhouse Sunday

The Playhouse is proud to present, starting Saturday through Monday, one of the loveliest pictures ever made—"Intermezzo, a Love Story," starring Leslie Howard and Edna Best, and introducing the beautiful young continental actress, Ingrid Gergman.

"Intermezzo" is a drama about a great violinist who, returning to his home and family after a two-year absence, finds himself restless and anxious for a life of youth and gaiety. When his wife will not leave home to accompany him on a second honeymoon to the romantic places he visited on tour, he turns to the lovely young pianist who teaches his daughter. From that point "Intermezzo" surges to a thrilling and poignant climax.

Deanna Durbin comes to this screen Tuesday and Wednesday in "Mad About Music" with Herbert Marshall. This picture is considered by many to be Miss Durbin's finest. As she has since been signed by the Metropolitan Opera Company, it is particularly interesting to hear her magic voice as she sings "Chapel Bells," "A Serenade to the Stars," and Gounod's "Ave Maria," this last accompanied by the internationally renowned Vienna Boys' Choir.

Starting Thursday, Sept. 26, the adult continental drama, "Citadel of Silence," starring Annabella and Pierre Renoir. This picture, acclaimed by New York theater-goers, tells the story of a girl's great love and the sensational, shocking, thrilling story of a people's heroic struggle for freedom.

DOG DAYS — AND NIGHTS

Edited by JESSIE JOAN BROWN

There were a number of interesting visitors in Carmel last week. One of the prettiest of the out-of-towners was Buffins Mayer, a comely, golden-haired young lady from Palo Alto who, with her mistress, Miss Ruth Mayer, was enjoying a few days' stay in the village.

Buffins is a frequent visitor here and her charming manner and big, brown velvet eyes made her the center of attraction wherever she goes, whether it is romping on the beach or strolling about the village.

Another interesting visitor was a distinguished little fellow, Chinky Dampier, who was here with his owners, Lucille and Gloria Dampier.

Chinky is a sleeve Pekingese whose honorable ancestors were carried in the sleeves of the ladies of the court of the old Dowager Empress of China. This aristocratic young gentleman was completely charmed with the beach and spent much of his time there. He would run up and down it as fast as his short little legs could carry him, his ears flying, barking loudly at the waves. It made him feel very important.

A Dark Gentleman has come to town. The Cocker set is quite intrigued with the arrival of the dark and handsome stranger who has come to make his home with Audrey and Phyllis Smith. His name is Shadrach and his family were army people at the Presidio in San Francisco. They were transferred to Honolulu and rather than take Shadrach with them and subject him to the long period of quarantine in the islands, they gave him to Audrey.

Of course, Shad is a city boy, used to bright lights and city ways and lots of people, so he has to get used to the simplicity of village life —to dirt roads instead of paved streets, to pine trees instead of telephone poles, to moonlight instead of neon signs.

Already Shadrach enjoys being far from the "madding crowd's ignoble strife," and before very long he will have become a full-fledged villager.

Fashion note—

All of Mickey De Packh's feminine friends are green with envy because of her new fall outfit. It consists of a custom-made harness of mahogany leather with a leash to match. The color is very new and quite stunning with Mickey's titian hair. And when she saunters along Ocean avenue in her new attire she looks as if she had just stepped out of a canine edition of Vogue.

MORE THAN 200 REGISTER IN ADULT SCHOOL HERE

More than 200 students had registered in the classes of the Carmel Adult School in the first three evenings of the current term, according to data supplied by J. W. Getsinger, principal of the school. This number is expected to more than double as the program gets under way in the next few days. Getsinger reports requests for new classes from a number of people and says that every effort will be made to meet these requests where the numbers justify it.

GOT ANY SHRUBS YOU'D LIKE TO DONATE TO BERNARD ROWNTREE?

Got any shrubs you'd like to donate to Bernard Rowntree?

Now, wait a minute, he doesn't want 'em for his own self, actually, he wants 'em for your property; to beautify the grounds of the disposal plant the Carmel Sanitary District owns down there in the river a short space from the highway bridge.

And he's willing to do the work of depositing them on or in the bosom of mother earth. Bernard takes a great pride in that plant. And you would, too, if you went down and took a look at it. As we have said, so eloquently, it looks like the first unit of a world's fair.

Got any shrubs you'd like to donate to Bernard Rowntree? Call him at 98-R if you have.

WASH and IRON the MODERN WAY

Blue Monday and its Tuesday aftermath of strenuous, back-breaking ironing are banished when modern electric washing and ironing machines are on the job. • No more irksome scrubbing, no weary hot hours of lifting and pressing, standing over an old-fashioned ironing board. • An electric washer and ironer will do all the hard work in a fraction of the usual time. Instead of that "fagged-out" feeling by Tuesday night, you'll be fresh as a daisy and ready to go places. • The new models are marvelously easy to run, and the cost of operation very low. Save your time, your energy, your nerves. Banish back-breaking Tuesday. See the new ironers at your dealers today.
